

Tom Lamson Joins Pearson Partners International

Retained Executive Search Firm Welcomes Industry Veteran as Principal

DALLAS – May 17, 2010 – Pearson Partners International announces that Tom Lamson has joined the firm as a principal. Tom is a Certified Personnel Consultant and has over 16 years of experience in recruiting senior level executives both nationally and internationally. Tom specializes in the design-and-build, facility and real estate arenas, with particular expertise in the architectural, interior design, property development and management, construction and engineering disciplines.

Prior to joining Pearson Partners International, Tom was with an executive recruiting firm in Dallas, where he built a successful design-and-build practice and garnered a reputation as a leading personnel consultant. Tom's industry expertise has been quoted in such publications as the Dallas Morning News, D Magazine and the Dallas Business Journal, and has been featured in televised segments on KTVT CBS Dallas, NBC5 Dallas and WKRC CBS Cincinnati. Tom is frequently invited to speak, and has been a guest speaker

Tom earned his bachelor's degree from The University of Texas at Arlington and served as an officer in The United States Navy Submarine Force. He has been cited in several leading publications and televised segments as an architecture and engineering industry expert, and is frequently invited to speak about personnel and human resources issues and trends. Most recently Tom was a guest speaker for Metrocon Dallas, the International Facility Managers Association, and the American Institute of Architects.
